Fine Arts, not design. Application includes a "Home Test," which is a substantial part of application's weight, but grades and SATs are important. Only 65 applicants out of 3000 are accepted. Free tuition, but they tend to take a lot of New Yorkers. Dorm, New York (Manhattan) is expensive. Fairly structured curriculum, with foundation year. Then, students are free to study within the various departments at their own discretion. Areas of concentration, but not majors as Cooper Union offers a generalist, interdisciplinary program.

School is a department of the museum and it houses the second largest art collection in the country. No foundation year, no majors and all students have access to all classes offered. Affiliated with Northeastern and Tufts University, BFA granted through Tufts. Tufts has a 5 year program where you can get 2 degrees (must apply to Tufts). Tufts is not real close to Museum School, must take transportation to campus (shuttle provided several times a day). SMFA is member of a consortium of schools; students can cross register at Mass Art, Berklee College of Music, Boston Conservatory, Emerson College and Boston Center for Architecture. NOTED AS ONE OF THE MORE CONCEPTUALLY ORIENTED PROGRAMS. For portfolio reviews, be prepared and ready to talk; the reps sometimes like to challenge your thinking. No grades, earn credits. "Offer classes, don't REQUIRE". Review committee (2 faculty and 2 students) awards credit. Dorms for freshmen and great scholarship opportunities. Interdisciplinary summer pre-college program.
